

Why choose Neptune?

Sleeping Comfort for Pleasure and Superyachts

Choosing a mattress based on price alone can be a false economy

What do you think are the reasons why some superyachts skimp on sleeping comfort? Especially in the crew cabins, when in fact they are actually the most important people on board! Don't all crew simply deserve a good, comfortable and healthy place to sleep?

For charter guests too, sleeping comfort is often overlooked and therefore the mattresses provided can be of poor quality, even when these guests pay enormous amounts of money to charter the yacht for a week.

Some captains or management companies tell us that there is no budget for it, but is this really the case?

There are many providers of customised boat mattresses. Unfortunately, many of these companies work with cheap raw materials whilst trying to meet the price expectations of some superyachts, and still earn some money for themselves.

In addition, many countries do not even have access to high quality raw materials. In Holland, the superior cold foams we use are manufactured in the Netherlands. The unsurpassed Vita-Talalay latex is made in Maastricht. This latex material can also be used in combination with pocket springs produced in Germany. The best flame retardant mattress covers and finishing materials are also all manufactured in the Netherlands where quality is key.

We do not need to tell you about the craftsmanship of a Neptune. It is the best of the best. We simply do not settle for less. We are always looking for ways of developing new durable and healthy raw materials for our mattresses.

Recently, the new comfort foam "Pantera® Nautic" has been developed especially for Neptune.

(We simply deliver what others promise)

Approximately 30% of your time on board will be spent sleeping and we feel that's too long to tolerate any discomfort, and we are definitely worth the investment.

Crew members, guests and of course the owner, functions much better with a healthy and good night's sleep. You get more out of the day's activities and you simply have more energy. A good night's sleep has a positive influence on your health, your hygiene, your mood, and your state of mind. So you shouldn't think about it too lightly.

It is simply one of the most important investments and decisions on board pleasure and superyachts.

In our Dutch factory, we cut and assemble the mattress cores from rough blocks of comfort foam from the best Dutch manufacturers. In our modern sewing workshop, we work with the most advanced sewing and cutting machines, so we manufacture mattresses of unrivalled quality. Mattress Comparisons for all persons on board

Cost per week for at least the next seven years

Think of the investment another way...If you drink one cup of coffee or one glass of beer or one glass house wine less a week... you can purchase one of our best mattresses.

A good night's sleep costs +/- € 0,30 per night which is comparable to one cup of coffee or one glass of house wine or a glass of beer per week. A bad mattress is too expensive at any price! A bad night's sleep, normally accompanied with back pain simply cannot be expressed in terms of money, and the person has to go back and sleep in the same awful bed again, night after night.

This is based on 7 years. In general, a good mattress can sometimes last 10 years or more. Everything depends on how you handle the mattress and the weight of the person sleeping on it.

Average pricing for crew cabins 90cm wide is +/- € 450,00 to €770,00
You understand that the mattress for the price of € 450,00 is budget entry quality.
For € 770,00 you can have a premium quality Pantera® Nautic which is mold and dust mite resistant and guaranteed for 7 years for structural stability. This quality also meets the strict IMO standards, which can also be very important for chartering superyachts. This is the average price for a mattress made entirely to measure. Please do not hesitate to request a quote for your mattresses with the correct mattress dimensions on board your yacht.

Another nice comparison is that a good mattress does not even cost one cigarette a day, some people smoke so many cigarettes that they can replace all the mattresses of an average Hilton hotel. 😊

In short, you should never cut back on the budget for sleeping comfort when people spend 30% of their time sleeping! There is no excuse for poor quality mattresses!
